

7 WAYS YOU CAN HELP STOP CHILD TRAFFICKING

- 1. Know the signs. What makes a child vulnerable to trafficking? An unstable living situation, struggles with poverty, or a background in the child welfare system are just some of the indicators.
- 2. Report a tip. If you are in the U.S. and believe someone may be a victim of human trafficking, call the 24-hour National Human Trafficking Hotline at 1-888-373-7888
- 3. Spread the word! Raise awareness about child trafficking and connect people to resources in your community. Share info through social media, discussions within community groups, or conversation with friends.
- 4. Register for training. SOAR Online and OnWatch™ both offer free, 1-hour training modules online on how to recognize and help combat trafficking in America.
- 5. Raise your voice. Contact your local and state representatives to let them know you care about combating human trafficking and ask what they are doing to address it.
- 6. Mentor. Become a mentor to a young person who has aged out of foster care. Traffickers often target people who lack strong support systems. As a mentor, you can be involved in new and positive experiences in that person's life during a formative time.
- 7. Foster! Become a foster parent, or support foster families in your community. Children moved through unstable households are extremely at-risk for trafficking. Parents and foster parents should learn how human traffickers often target and recruit youth, and who to turn to for help in potentially dangerous situations.
